

Christ, Only Christ!

Proclaiming HIM Following HIM

September 2018

I Am His

My stammering tongue cannot define
The measure of His love divine,
I only know that He is mine -
And I am His.

I only know I can depend
On Him onto the very end
And trust Him, for He is my friend
And I am His.

I need not dread, I need not fear
The day my Savior shall appear,
But hold it as a promise dear
For I am His.

Independence Day

With over 150 people attending, we thankfully had a full house at this evangelistic outreach! My brother Michael gave the Gospel at the event and did a great job. It was so encouraging for me to see all of the believers from our church working together, planning, decorating and spending their own money to prepare for and provide the food for this event!

- ▶ Dear Lord, don't let Satan steal the seed that has been sown in these hearts.
- ▶ May these people receive the love for the truth and be saved! Amen.

Parents in Action

Last weekend we had a PA camp. This was by far the largest one we have ever had! I'm so excited to see more and more Parents get serious about working with their children and about 'training them up in the way they should go'! The biography we read for this camp was on the life of Corrie Ten Boom. It was a impacting and encouraging read for all of us!

Family presentation time!

Bible study & biography quiz.

Making breakfast!

- ▶ Father, don't let these parents grow weary and may they not lose heart.
- ▶ Lord, please give them wisdom in leading their children to Christ.
- ▶ I Pray that they would recognize and eradicate every idol in their homes and in their lives!
- ▶ May they cast off everything that is weighing them down.
- ▶ And, cause these families to be daily reading and applying Your Word! Amen.

San Carlos

For about a month now, four young men from a nearby town have been coming to the Bible study with Manuel! I'm excited about the opportunity to teach them and I'm amazed that they have continued to come every week. Also, we still have a small group of kids attending. Recently, I've been printing out key Bible verses for them to memorize during the next week. If they memorize the verse, I give them a prize! It seems to be working pretty well.

Also during the PA camp last weekend, Manuel brought up a group of people from San Carlos and the majority of them have been coming to the weekly Bible studies! It seemed to be an encouraging time for them.

Even though I don't have a lot of kids who come regularly, Anna has been able to continue going to some peoples house and work with the children there. This, needless to say has been a great encouragement!

Jisel, from our church, with the children Anna is working with.

- Dear Lord, please continue to strengthen Manuel and his family.
- Make them light and salt in the dark and tasteless world that surrounds them.
- May they be daily reading and applying your Word.

- Father, continue to open the door with these children.
- May they see the beauty of Jesus Christ!

- Continue to bring Miguel, Jose and the other young men to the Bible study.
- Powerfully expose Satan's lies in the lives of these dear souls. Amen.

What's Next?

Sunday I left for Colorado Springs to assist the wedding of my best friend Josiah Norris. The Tuohy family was kind enough to let me travel up to the wedding with them. They have been such a huge blessing to me! Lord willing we will be back home the 12th of October and I will be able to continue with the regular studies and different ministries.

Besides this trip, I don't believe the month holds anything out of the ordinary.

- Father, please continue to protect us as we travel.
- Make us a blessing to everyone we come into contact with.
- May we be faithful in the little things.
- And, may it be Christ, only Christ in all! Amen.

Thank you so much for your interest and for your prayers!

Nathan,

Your brother in CHRIST!
